Permaculture Central Coast(PCC)
Inc.

Established September 2006

Permaculture Central Coast (PCC) Inc is a not-for-profit organisation, run completely by volunteer community members who believe in education. community sharing, partnership and who have a passion for a sustainable future.

About Permaculture Central Coast

Community sharing, partnership and passion for a sustainable future

PCC holds public information evenings on the third Tuesday of the month from February to November each year at Tuggerah Hall, Anzac Rd, Tuggerah

Members help spread understanding of permaculture and sustainable issues

Meet like minded people and learn about organic gardening, recycling, and sustainability

Most members practice permaculture to some extent. Some members hold permaculture qualifications. Others are interested in learning more about making a positive difference to make our world a better place and are early in the permaculture journey

Aims of PCC

Promote permaculture as a sustainable solution to local environmental and social issues through education, and by sharing information, ideas and surplus

Aim of Permaculture

‘Permaculture aims to create systems that are ecologically sound and economically viable, which provide for their own needs, do not exploit or pollute, and are therefore sustainable in the long term’

Bill Mollison 1991

‘Permaculture is about working with, rather than against nature’

Permaculture is a design system that integrates people and their surroundings in a way that creates a self-reliant lifestyle. It incorporates food production, ethical care of animals, the earth, plants and people in a way that serves to meet the needs of all. It is a system where nothing is wasted and all surplus is distributed in a manner that helps to create cooperation, co-existence and sustainability

Vicky Gear 2004

Earth care, people care and share your surplus
